What Is Home Health Care?

Home health care involves a range of health care services that can be provided wherever home may be. Also known as ‘skilled care,’ home health care is designed to help you gain independence and remain safe at home as an active community member.

Is Home Health Care Right For Me?

If any of these sounds familiar, you might benefit from home health care:

- New diagnosis, or recent difficulty with a chronic illness
- Trouble completing routine tasks for disease management
- New medications, or juggling 3 or more medications
- Recent fall, or a close call/fear of falling
- Feeling weaker than before, or less able to do daily tasks
- Pain that interferes with daily activities
- Difficult or not possible to leave the house

"My nurses and therapist were always respectful, encouraging, and even fun. Because of them, my recovery has been smoother and quicker than I could have expected!"

- Leota L.
Making The Right Choice

If you are considering other providers, make sure your choice has all the advantages to get you the best care.

Do they offer all that Hometown: A Residential Company does?

- Accredited & recognized within the industry?
- Hiring their own nurses and therapists instead of contract workers?
- Able to start your care quickly?
- Scheduling patient visits 365 days a year?
- Working with your current doctors to give you consistent care?
- Available 24/7 with a nurse to answer your questions?
- Emergency-ready at the touch of a button?
- Ready with additional services — like pain and symptom management or hospice support — if your needs should change?
- Addressing your specific health challenges with proven programs?
- Monitoring your vital signs with Telehealth technology?
- Dedicated Transitional Nurse Liaisons to help you make a smooth transition home?
